Projects

Silent Scholar: An Effective E-learning System for Empowering Learners with Speech and Hearing difficulties in Primary Education (Final Year Project)

Web Application for Educational Institute Management

Developed a responsive web application aimed at streamlining teaching, learning, and administrative tasks within a private educational institute. The system integrates features such as online lecture sharing, assignment submission, and teacher-student communication in one platform. This project enhanced my skills in full-stack web development, database design, and UI/UX implementation.

Deepfake Detection Literacy in Digital Content Creators(Final Year Research)

The Impact of Digital Learning Platforms on Student Engagement

Conducted a research study to analyze how digital learning platforms influence student engagement and academic performance. Designed and proposed a research framework including data collection methods, literature review, and analysis approach. Developed skills in academic writing, research design, and critical evaluation of educational technologies.

Saving-Tracker

Designed and developed a personal finance tracking web application using React.js and CSS. Users can add, edit, and delete daily transactions, with automatic balance calculations. Focused on responsive UI and local data storage for offline access. Integrated a CI/CD pipeline using GitHub Actions to automate code testing and deployment, ensuring consistent and efficient updates.

social media addiction application

A mobile and web-based application for monitoring and reducing social network usage, allowing the user to track their daily screen time, getting alerts in case of limit breach, and viewing usage reports. This is a modern frontend-centric development aimed at inculcating healthy digital habits. This will really showcase my skills in analyzing user behavior, designing UI/UX, and developing application logic.

Meditation-tracker

Developed a simple web application for tracking meditation using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. The system lets users log meditation sessions, view progress, and keep up consistency. It's available on GitHub and shows my skills with front-end development, version control through Git, and proper attention to user experience.
